Lakshmi N. Mittal is the Executive Chairman of ArcelorMittal. He founded Mittal Steel Company (formerly the LNM Group) in 1976 and guided its strategic development, culminating in the merger with Arcelor in 2006 to form the world’s largest steelmaker, with presence in 60 countries and employing around 168,000 people worldwide. In addition to leading the pace of consolidation in the steel industry with more than 45 years’ experience, he has been championing innovation and performance improvement.

Lakshmi N. Mittal is an active philanthropist and a member of the board of trustees of Cleveland Clinic. In addition to his membership of the ERT, he participates in the World Economic Forum’s International Business Council, the World Steel Association’s Executive Committee, the Global CEO Council of the Chinese People’s Association for Friendship with Foreign Countries, the Kazakhstan Foreign Investment Council and the Global Advisory Council of Harvard University.

Lakshmi N. Mittal is the chairman of Aperam and a member of the board of Goldman Sachs.

Among his many awards and honours, Lakshmi N. Mittal is a recipient of the Padma Vibhushan, India’s second highest civilian honour, a Forbes Lifetime Achievement Award, a fellowship from King’s College London and a Doctor Honoris Causa by the AGH University of Science and Technology in Krakow, Poland.

@ArcelorMittal  in arcelormittal